

Information Collected on this Mobile Application

We do not store your data. No information identifying you personally is collected. We use mobile application usage statistics to analyze how our mobile application is used and to improve its usefulness to the public.

If you choose to provide us with personal information, as in an e-mail to our developer, we use that information to respond to your inquiry and to help us get the information requested. We only share the information you give us with another agency if your inquiry relates to that agency, or as otherwise required by law. When you make an inquiry by e-mail, we do not post your inquiry on the web site.

It is the policy of the Maryland Judiciary to preserve the privacy of personal records and to protect confidential or privileged information obtained through use of this mobile application. Such information will be disclosed publicly only in accordance with the Public Information Act or as necessary and permissible to carry out the duties of the Maryland Judiciary.

This Privacy Policy does not cover personal or identifying information about litigants that may appear in published appellate court opinions posted on the Maryland Judiciary's web site or any other third-party site contained herein.

This Policy addresses current Judiciary mobile application practices and does not cover future transactions such as e-commerce, e-filing, etc.

If you have any questions about this privacy policy, please e-mail the privacy@mdcourts.gov.

Disclaimer

The Maryland Judiciary provides the information on this mobile application as a public service. Information contained on this mobile application is believed to be accurate but is not guaranteed. The Maryland Judiciary does not endorse any linked site, nor does it assume responsibility for the content found on those sites.